

1 PETER COX

Peter is the boss – or likes to think he is. . . He started his career in accountancy in 1962, qualified with Chantrey Button, and became a Partner in 1972.

In 1997 Peter decided that he needed fresh challenges and so formed Thomas Cox & Co. His business has grown from a one-man band to a team of five and from one small office to a large office with a separate study.

Peter's many qualities include a good sense of humour, an eye for detail, and brightly coloured shirts. He is a car/steam engine/ship fanatic as is evident from the various paintings and models we have adorning the study.

Peter's office duties mainly focus on accounting and business development work but he also holds the post of office gardener, temperature controller, and resident expert on the daily happenings in Coronation Street.

2 YVONNE DYER

Yvonne joined us in November 2006 and is our Compliance Manager. Yvonne started her accountancy career with Cadbury Schweppes (so that's where her obsession with chocolate first began!).

After 19 years spent working in industry, including running the divisional accounts department of a large construction company, she moved into practice and is now our expert on Sage Accounts Production and Sage Line 50, amongst other things. One area that she has not yet mastered, however, is being able to open the biscuit barrel without the rest of us noticing. . . keep practising Yvonne!

3 HELEN ROBINSON

Helen is our resident tax person, dealing with the bits that Peter hasn't time for. She has spent more years than she cares to remember completing personal tax returns, having qualified all those years ago with Thomson McLintock in London, and then working for a firm of financial advisors in St Albans.

Helen divides her time between working for Thomas Cox and enjoying herself playing badminton, tennis and getting used to her husband's retirement.

4 VICTORIA COX

Victoria joined the team in the winter of 2006 as our newly appointed Marketing Coordinator. She studied English at university but decided to follow in her father's footsteps by getting involved in the business world. She is responsible for customer relations and customer management and is also responsible for PR events, promotional literature and marketing.

Victoria's aim is to help triple the profits made by Thomas Cox & Co so that she will inherit a very wealthy business when Peter retires in eight years time!

5 SARAH QUIGGIN

Sarah's varied role includes office administrator, payroll clerk and bookkeeper. She is also responsible for keeping Peter's diary up to date and his desk uncluttered, which she achieves with varying degrees of success. . .

In her spare time Sarah looks after her husband, is driven mad by their three teenage children, and can frequently be seen wearing out the treadmill at the local gym.
